AT U. S. SUPREME BAR.

Another Woman Admitted to Practice in the Nation's Highest Court.

Mrs. Catherine Vaughn McCulloch of Chicago is one of the few women who have been admitted to practice in the supreme court of the United States. Mrs. McCulloch has been in Washington, attending the National Association of Woman Suffragists. The supreme court being in session, she took the opportunity of filing her papers for admission to that court. The formal order was made at once.

Mrs. McCulloch has been practicing law ten years. She graduated at the Union College of Law in Chicago and soon after married Frank McCulloch, a classmate. Their family consists of one son, and they have a pleasant home at Evanston, Ills. Mrs. McCulloch and her husband practice together considerably. Judge James Bradwell said of Mrs. McCulloch on hearing of her admission to the supreme court:

"If Mrs. McCulloch had devoted her entire energy to the practice of law, her talents would have made her eminent in the profession."

In addition to building up a successful practice Mrs. McCulloch has become one of the leaders of the woman's suffrage movement. She is one of the new leaders, full of tact, womanly, persuasive as well as logical. In 1892 she spoke before the senate and house of representatives of Illinois in favor of equal suffrage and in 1896 before the committee on resolutions of the national republican convention at St. Louis.

Mrs. McCulloch is a handsome woman, with dark eyes and hair. She is small, with gentle manners and a sweet voice. She dresses well in becoming gowns and is only 35 years of age.

Hats That Will Be Worn Easter.

Leghorn, manilla, chip and raffia, in all colors, are used for the new spring hats, as well as an absolutely new straw braid with a satin finish not unlike the silk covered braids which obtained during the winter. Sailor hats, that always have an assured position, are in a new material in the form of woven bulrushes, which, after being braided, are shaped and generally edged with a narrow black velvet ribbon. Linen crash is also used for this kind of hat. The most striking of all are those of white or gray felt intended for summer wear.

Rich ribbons of velvet, silk, satin and moire are all used, being plaited and shirred, while piece fabrics, heavily embroidered with beads and spangles, also obtain. The fashionable colors are periwinkle blue, anemone blue, heliotrope, champagne, the light shades of ruby, brown, pearl gray, pink and pale green. Fanciful combinations are noted in the flowers. There is a decided fancy for putting the trimming—that may take the form of a bunch of flowers, a bow of ribbon, a drapery of velvet or satin—under the brim on the left side, so massed as to have it come well on the hair.—Ladies' Home Journal.

A Clever Canadian Matron.

Mrs. Boomer, president of the local council of women in London, Canada, has been appointed a member of the high school board of that city. The appointment was made by the board of aldermen, and it is the first time that a woman has held the position there. The London Daily Free Press says of Mrs. Boomer: "No woman in Canada has of late years borne a more energetic part in the promotion of good works in many directions or displayed more courage and graceful tact in public matters than she whose lot it has been to open the way for the work of women in the management of our city schools. In this role Mrs. Boomer possesses in the highest degree the respect and confidence of the public and is therefore entitled to the support and sympathy of the members of the board, and this she will surely receive."

Women Artists.

The women artists whom the three prominent art institutions of New York are turning out yearly are taking their places among illustrators and colorists of the day and winning acknowledgments of their ability. In some branches their work is liked even better than that of men, as the touch is lighter. But the charge of a lack of humor in the feminine mind is made here as elsewhere. A woman cartoonist or caricaturist has, so far, not appeared. It has been suggested that a certain coarseness necessary in the treatment of such pictures may have been the reason women have not tried to acquire the knack of making them.

Miss Lillian Lees.

Miss Lillian Lees, one of the six sisters who accompanied Mrs. Ormiston Chant to Greece and one of the nurses who did good work during the Greco-Turkish war, both in the military hospital at Athens and in The Daily Chronicle hospital at Chalcis, has been appointed matron of the Hospital Samaritano, Sao Paulo, Brazil. Miss Lees was trained at the Hospital for Sick Children, Pendlebury, and also received three years' further training and her certificates from King's College hospital.

Nervous Prostration.

Dr. J. Curtis Webb, an eminent English physician, recently lectured on this subject. The lecturer said that hysteria was a symptom of nerve exhaustion and was a state in which the ideas controlled the body and produced morbid changes in its functions. If allowed to go on uninterrupted, nervous exhaustion and breakdown followed. The seeds of this really terrible disease were in 99 cases out of 100 sown and watered during the period of education and training of girls at and after a critical period of life. Such cases were more frequent since the introduction of the system of higher education of women, for the advocates of this made the great mistake of assuming that there was no real difference between girls and boys between the ages of 14 and 21. He mentioned the frequent occurrence of cases of anama and breakdown among girls and attributed this to excessive mental work and the lack of healthy exercise.

He advocated golf, cycling, lawn tennis and other games as a preventive and corrective and insisted upon the necessity for regular indulgence in physical exercise. It was not work which hurt, but perseverance in work after nature had held out her danger signals in the shape of constant lassitude, loss of appetite and irregularity of functions. Nervous exhaustion sometimes occurred as a result of excessive physical exercise, and among middle aged ladies as a result of worry. The remedy in the latter case was to live easier and according to rule. The complaint was also met with in young children and was in these cases generally due to the forcing of mental faculties or constant scolding and nagging.

The Trans-Mississippi and International Congress is composed of delegates from every State and Territory West of the Mississippi river. The idea of this exposition originated in that Congress at its session at Omaha in 1895, and the project has become a National enterprise and the National Commission has been organized and is in active service, there being one commissioner for each of the several departments of the Government. Most of the Trans-Mississippi States are well along in the way of gathering exhibits from their respective States and many of them have made liberal appropriations, while others are preparing exhibits through private enterprise.

Vice-President H. B. Maxson of Reno, has made arrangements whereby he can get Nevada exhibits, shipped from any point in the State along the line of the O. P. R. R., to Omaha and return; and he requests all persons who wish the interests of the State advertised, to co-operate with the Exposition County Commissioner of his county, whose name is shown above, and prepare some product of his county and send it to the nearest point on the C. P. R. R. from which place it will be sent to Omaha and exhibit, and to the same point at the close of the exposition, free of expense to the exhibitor. Full information should accompany everything sent for exhibition. Before sending anything to the line of the railroad a full description should be given to the Exposition Commissioner of the county, who in turn will notify the Vice-President, who will notify him what action to take, otherwise there might be many duplications. Apply to your County Representative for further information, and don't let this opportunity of advertising the resources of Nevada be lost.

FRIDAY, APRIL 15, 1898.

EASTERN ADVERTISING OFFICE 230
to 234 Temple Court, New York City
E. Katz, Agent.THE POSITION THE GOVERNMENT SHOULD OCCUPY.

From an extract given below it may be inferred that Senator Stewart is of the opinion that the United States Government should guarantee the independence of Cuba or recognize the insurgents in some way to avoid a conquest of the island by us:

"Senator Stewart declared on the floor of the Senate that intervention in Cuban affairs without recognizing the insurgents would be conquest. The United States cannot ask the Cubans to lay down their arms unless we guarantee them independence, or, at least, recognize them as a free and independent nation."

Why the Senator should entertain such an opinion is not so clear. Should war be declared, the United States would have the right to invade in its prosecution, Spanish territory, and it should not follow that the invasion was in spirit or in fact a conquest of the territory invaded. The theory of our Government respecting Cuba and its people is that the interests of humanity demand intervention because the war is not prosecuted by a strong and humane government against its rebellious subjects, but has become, and is, a war of extermination by starvation and other means foreign to the ideas of humane nations and civilized war. The object of the United States is to close, in the interest of humanity and civilization, the further prosecution of a war of extermination and give relief and freedom to an oppressed people, which may be done without recognizing the insurgents in any way. The question at issue is between the United States and Spain, and the contention is the doing of Spain in Cuba. Uncle Sam in effect says to Spain, Stop your inhumanity in Cuba.

Spain in effect replies by saying, I won't do it.

Uncle Sam is about to say I will see to it that you do cease from your brutality in Cuba, and war is declared. With the question of war the insurgents have nothing to do, and their right to independence, or their rights as belligerents are not involved. The proper and only time when the United States could logically consider the right of the Cubans as question between Spain and the United States will be when our Government is in a position to aid the Cubans in a way material to their independence, which will be at the close of the war. When Spain is defeated and the questions involving a lasting peace are being considered, the United States will then be in a position to require from Spain as one of the conditions of peace that Spain recognize the independence of Cuba, or our government might agree with Spain to receive the is and as a part of any war indemnity agreed on between the governments. Should the latter course be more agreeable to the contracting parties, our government would then be clothed with authority to give to Cuba such a government as the wisdom of our people would think for the best interests of that oppressed people, but should the independence of Cuba be recognized before the close of the war by our Government it would not then be in a position to pursue the latter course in its negotiations with Spain. Nor would it be in a position to say to Cuba the war that made you free has cost the blood and money of a humane and free people, and it is their intention that you shall receive the benefits that should follow.

THE PENDING RESOLUTION.

The Senate was occupied yesterday in considering the majority report of the Committee on Foreign Relations and the resolutions therein contained are similar to the ones so promptly adopted by the House at Wednesday's session.

There seems to be a hitch in the Senate or their deliberate action on so important a question may be in keeping with the dignity of that body. It is expected, however, that a vote will be reached to-day, and it is believed the majority report of the committee will be adopted.

The resolutions are as follows:

First—The people of Cuba are and by right ought to be free and independent.

Second—It is the duty of the United States to demand and this Government does demand that the Government of Spain at once relinquish its authority and government in Cuba and withdraw its land and naval forces from Cuba and from Cuban waters.

Third—The President is hereby directed and empowered to use the entire naval and land forces of the United States and to call into active service the militia of the States to such an extent as may be necessary to carry these resolutions into effect.

If the above adopted by the Senate, they are virtually a declaration of war, for the President has said that if both branches of the national Congress act affirmatively, he will be ready to act within twenty-four hours.

MORO CASTLE is not such a formidable fortress as many suppose. In fact, it is a relic of the days when soldiers had just ceased to fight with bows and arrows. The guns of a modern battleship would knock it into a promiscuous heap about as quickly as they would demolish a haystack.

WAR NEWS.

The Senate adjourned at 6 o'clock P. M. until to-day at 10 A. M., when it is thought a vote will be reached.

President McKinley has ordered the immediate purchase of the big American liners, St. Paul and St. Louis.

President McKinley has said that if either of the resolutions now pending are passed he would act within twenty-four hours.

The dynamite cruiser Nichteroy has been purchased from Brazil, subject to the approval of the Naval Committee. The Holland is also being considered. These are the only war vessels now on the market.

The majority report of the Foreign Relations Committee, similar to that considered by the House on Wednesday, was before the Senate yesterday. Speech making was the order, but Chairman Davis of the Committee thinks the Senate will adopt the report.

The tugs Fearless, Vigilant and Active have been purchased of the Spreckles Bros. by the Navy Department and have been turned over. They will be fitted with several six-pound guns each, and will be attached to Rear Admiral Miller's command, on the North Pacific, as patrol boats.

Orders have been received at San Francisco to fit out the four revenue cutters in that port as auxiliary gunboats. They are the Perry, Grant, Corwin and Rush. The steamer Albatross and the coast survey steamer Patterson Hessler and McArthur have been ordered to Mare Island, and will be fitted out with rapid fire guns, and their vital parts will be protected.

The House proceedings during the action on the majority report of the Committee on Foreign Relations, were marked by a bitter and serious display of patriotic feeling. During the height of the excitement, the lie passed between Brumm, Republican of Pennsylvania and Bartlett, Democrat of Georgia. A disgraceful scene followed that almost reached the proportions of a street fight. Order was finally restored and it was found that the altercation had grown out of a misunderstanding. Mutual apologies followed, but the Speaker was forced to call upon the sergeant-at-arms to forcibly seat Mr. Johnson of Indiana who was indignantly remonstrating against what he termed to be an unnecessary war into which the country was being plunged.

The Chinese Painter.

A story, which if not true is not badly told, runs to the effect that while the bark Cape City was at Hongkong a Chinaman was engaged to paint the necessary name on each bow. He produced on one bow the legend "Cape City," without a space between the two words. Then he noted that the "Y" was nearest to the ship's stern, and, remembering this fact, he afforded an excellent example of how severely logical his race can be, for in a little while he had painted on the other bow the striking permutation "Yticipac," to his own delight and the crew's amazement.—Chambers' Journal.

Chelsea district, in London, utilizes its street refuse by separating the rags and paper, which are converted into brown wrapping paper, while the rest of the refuse is burned in the furnaces of the reduction works and the residue is used in brickmaking.

For the Bashful Lover.

"Miss Daisy, you are writing to that little brother of yours who is visiting out west, aren't you?"

"Yes. He's a dear little fellow. I miss him so much."

"He is indeed. Have you sealed the letter yet, Miss Daisy?"

"Not yet."

"Add a postscript, if you please, and tell him I want to know how he would like me for a big brother."

(Demurely) "Mr. Spoonamore, it will be at least two weeks before you get an answer—if you ask him."

And the matter was settled in about two minutes.—Chicago Tribune.

Warned by a Thistle.

It was thought by the Danes to be cowardly to attack an enemy after nightfall, but on one occasion they deviated from their usual rule. On they crept, noiselessly and unobserved, in their bare feet, upon the unsuspecting Scotchmen. When near the camp, one of the Danes trod upon a thistle and in his pain cried out. This aroused the sleeping Scotchmen, and they gave the alarm. The Danes were defeated with terrible loss of life, and ever since that time the thistle has been the insignia of Scotland, with the motto, "Nemo me impune lacessit!"—Philadelphia Record.

Governor Sadler Looking After Stock Matters.

Governor Sadler interviewed a number of prominent stockmen yesterday and without exception they approved of his decided stand on the cattle quarantine question, and he proposes to carry out the law to the letter. He also looked over the sheep situation and did not anticipate that any more of California's starving sheep would be sent into Nevada. Governor Budd has applied to the Secretary of Agriculture for a modification of the quarantine rules and a reestablishment of the line for infected districts, so that certain counties of California will be out of quarantine and the stockmen can ship their cattle into Nevada. Governor Sadler says: "That's all right, I don't care about Governor Budd, he can't fool this dutehman; I'll give you a pointer on that," and it does look as if the Governor of California had run against a stump. Governor Sadler also said: "You don't see any cattle or sheep trains going through here from California do you?" When answered in the negative, he added: "Well, you won't neither if you hear my gentle racket. I am going to stand for the State of Nevada and California can take care of her own diseased stock as best she can, we don't want it here." If the Secretary of Agriculture should issue an order that inspected cattle or those free from the disease can be shipped from California through this State, Governor Sadler will insist that a quarantine station be established where cattle in transit can only be unloaded for feed and water, the number of hours lay over provided, and the trains flying flags indicating infected cattle. In fact, the regulations to be as strict as they can be made and to be enforced in every particular.

A Pretty "At Home."

A pretty reception given by Mrs. S. J. Hodgkinson and Mrs. John Lewis started the festive ball rolling after the quiet of the Lenten season. On Tuesday afternoon these ladies assisted by Mrs. T. K. Stewart and Mrs. Walter McN. Miller received their friends from two to six at the home of Mrs. Hodgkinson. The spacious rooms were beautifully decorated. The reception room was a bower of white and green, a profusion of callas, white tea roses and ferns adorned every nook and corner, and yards of smilax were festooned in the alcoves and arches and on the chandeliers. In the dining room La France roses greeted the guests, as they took their places for refreshments, which were daintily served by a bevy of charming young ladies. Sweet music was discoursed by the orchestra which was concealed by a large screen in the northeast corner of the reception room.

The afternoon was perfect and many beautiful Spring gowns and dainty bonnets were worn. Nearly two hundred invitations were extended and all who attended spent a delightful time.

School Election.

The various counties in the State are arranging for the election of School Trustees, which, under the amended school laws, should occur in May. In some of the counties the names of candidates have been properly filed and the registry lists have been opened. Two Nice Ways of Cooking Oysters—1. Pesto Omelet—Mix equal portions of cold chicken, turkey or veal with ham or tongue, a little chopped onion, pepper, salt and sweet herbs. Beat eight eggs very light, and stir the meat through. Heat lard or butter, fry in flat cakes and serve hot.

HOW LACES ARE NAMED.

Design of Pattern and Locality of Manufacture Make the Distinction.

Orlena L. Shackelford, in "Centuries of Lace," in The Woman's Home Companion, gives these interesting facts on lace manufacture: "The nomenclature of lace is decided by certain peculiarities of pattern, mesh or stitches that belong to certain localities, and it is retained even when the localities have long ceased to produce their distinctive fabrications. Valenciennes has not for many years wrought the laces that bear its name, their manufacture having long since been transferred to Ypres, Belgium, while the chauntilly laces are all made at Bayeux.

"The finest French laces are made in Normandy, the cheaper ones come from the Auvergne, which was the first French province to produce pillow lace. Bayeux, with her tributary surroundings, is the largest and best producer of black laces. Her chauntilly is par excellence the finest ever made. Caer is also a center for black laces. Normandy produces good black and white blonds. Guipures are made in the Auvergne, but the finest come from the Vosges. Mirepoix furnishes fine point and pillow lace. Brussels furnishes most of the Belgian needle points, though east Flanders, Brabant and Hainaut now supply large quantities. The old laces for which Brabant, Flanders and Flanders were once so celebrated are no longer the mode, though still much prized by connoisseurs. This is also true of malines, or meublin, lace and valenciennes, though the latter is returning to favor. Bruges makes a round mesh valenciennes, not so beautiful, as the lezange ground, and coarser qualities come from Courtrai and different parts of Flanders. Lille and Valenciennes formerly belonged to the Netherlands, which accounts for their early proficiency in lacemaking.

"Flemish guipures are noted for their excellence. The Belgian and French laces are the finest, in point of fabrication, in the world. Paris is to a large extent an emporium for Belgian laces. She is the birthplace of fashions and novelties and dictates lace designs, keeping alive emulation and rewarding merit through her Society of Decorative Arts. To France must be accorded the palm for black laces, while Belgium may claim it for the vaporous fineness of her points, nothing repelling a certain delicacy her famous point de gaze."

STATEMENT FOR THE INFORMATION OF PROSPECTIVE PURCHASERS OF RENO WATER WORKS AND ELECTRIC LIGHT BONDS.

THE CITY OF RENO WAS INCORPORATED by a special Act of the Legislature of the State of Nevada, approved March 8, 1897. It is the largest city on the line of the Central Pacific Railroad between Sacramento, California, and Ogden, Utah, has had a steady and continuous growth ever since its inception and is situated in the midst of the richest agricultural and stock raising country between the Sierra Nevada and the Rocky mountains. Its resources are agricultural and pastoral rather than those of mines. It is the terminus of the V. & T. R. R. extending south with its connection through Sacramento and fifty miles, and also of the N. C. & O. R. R. extending north eighty miles. It is the seat of the State University, of the State Hospital for Mental Diseases, and of the State Agricultural Society. At the general election of 1896 it cast 1300 votes and its present estimated population is 6,500. Its assessed valuation in the year 1897 was the sum of $1,745,890 which was upon a low and very conservative basis of valuation. Its total bonded indebtedness from all sources is $45,000. The total rate of taxation in the year 1897 for State, county, and local purposes was $2.87 on each one hundred dollars valuation.

By its Incorporation Act the City is authorized, subject to an affirmative vote of its electors to issue its bonds in a sum not exceeding $150,000 for procuring water and constructing municipal water works, and in a necessary sum for constructing municipal electric light works. A special election was called by the City Council for October 7, 1897 at which election the electors of the city voted in favor of bonding the city in the sum of $130,000 for municipal water works and in the sum of $30,000 for a municipal electric light plant by a vote of 400 in favor of and 130 against. In December 1897 an action in quo warranto was instituted in the Supreme Court of Nevada by Mr. A. G. Fletcher in which the constitutionality of the Incorporation Act was assailed upon twelve distinct grounds and also in which the legality, regularity, and sufficiency of the special election held on October 7, 1897, was questioned. On the 23rd day of February 1898, the Supreme Court of Nevada held its unanimous opinion in the action in which it sustained the constitutionality of the Incorporation Act, and the legality, regularity, and the sufficiency of the special election, in each and every particular. The City Council is authorized by law to raise the necessary funds with which to meet the bond interest charges and to liquidate the principal by either direct taxation of all property or by water and light charges against users or by both.

ASSESSMENT NOTICE.

OFFICE OF THE UNION DUTCH COMPANY, a corporation, principal place of business Reno, Nevada—Greeting:—

It is hereby given that at a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Union Dutch Company, held at their office in Reno, Nevada, on Saturday, March 14, 1898, an assessment (No. 12) of $10 dollar per share (or acre of land) was levied upon the capital stock of the company, payable at once to the Treasurer of the company, the said assessment being for the year 1898. Any stock upon which this assessment shall remain unpaid on Thursday, April 21st, 1898.

Shall be deemed delinquent, and will be advertised and sold at public auction to pay such assessment, cost of advertising and expenses of sale; provided, however, that lands owned by the Union Dutch, not represented in stock, shall pay pro rata one ($1) dollar per acre.

By order of the Board of Directors,
R. B. KINNEY, President.
W. H. NOYES, Secretary.
Reno, Nevada, March 25, 1898.

Lady Sheriff.

The earliest recorded hereditary lady sheriffs of Westmoreland appear to have been Isabella de Clifford and Idonea de Leyburn, who held the office jointly; the latest to have been the famous Anne de Clifford, who became hereditary high sheriff of Westmoreland in the year 1643 and appears to have fulfilled the duties of that office for more than 20 years. We have also records of Ela, countess of Salisbury, high sheriff of Wiltshire in the reign of Henry III, and of Nicholas de la Haye, high sheriff of Lincoln in the reigns of John and Henry III. Before the accession of Queen Victoria there had only been four queens regnant of England since the time of the Norman conquest—Mary Tudor, Elizabeth Tudor, Mary, wife of William of Orange, and Anne. Presumably these four "exceptions" were sufficient to establish the constitutional right of Queen Victoria, but a far greater number of "exceptions" is held by our highest judges to be inadequate to establish the constitutional right of any English woman to hold any public office.

We have evidence in the past of the existence of women justices of the peace, of women marshals, women custodians of castles; in addition, women hereditary lord high chamberlains. Even so late as the end of the last century we have a woman holding the office of keeper of the jail and market in the town of Southwold, in Suffolk.—Westminster Review.

New Handkerchiefs.

Hemstitching reigns in pocket handkerchiefs. This season is responsible for it, and it proves that fashion is not so black as she is painted, or she would not now and then see fit to be sensible. This does not mean that embroidery is not just as popular as ever, but it does mean that the scalloped and pointed edges, so difficult to launder and so invariably frayed and fringed after a few "doings up," are no longer in vogue. All this year's handkerchiefs have a hemstitched edge, no matter how narrow that edge may be and no matter how elaborate may be the inner border of embroidery. This holds good even of the finest importations, costing $35 and $80 apiece. "It is yet too soon," says the dealer, "to predict with any certainty what the coming handkerchief will be, but indications are that hemstitching has come to stay." The likeliest innovation is that the embroidery will extend to the hem, which will be a change and yet not infringe upon hemstitching rights. The fashion is to be welcomed by all, for if the costly linen article cuts a sorry figure with its ragged scalloped edges, what can be said of the cheap cotton imitations in the same plight?—Harper's Bazar.

Another Statue to a Woman.

The great city of London has recently had its art treasures increased by a noble bronze statue of Boadicea, the heroic British queen who fought so fearlessly against the Roman invaders.

This makes the third statue to woman within a short time, the other two being those of George Eliot and Mrs. Browning. The United States is somewhat behindhand in this matter, about the only statues to women being one of Harriet Beecher Stowe, in Hartford; another of Maria Mitchell, the astronomer; a third to a sister of charity, in New Orleans, and a few busts in Albany, Chicago and Washington of Elizabeth Cady Stanton, Susan B. Anthony, Clara Barton and Frances E. Willard.

Yet no country has a better field for such work. This is essentially the land of the women pioneers of progress, and coming generations if not the present one will see busts or statues erected to the memory of Dorothea Dix, Lydia Marie Child, Emma Lazarus, Emma Willard, Mary Lyon, Lucretia Mott, Dolly Madison, Moll Pitcher, Sister Anthony, Baroness de Hirsch, Margaret Fuller, Anna Dickinson, Mother Stewart and Mother Bickerdyke.—Margherita Arlino Hamm.

Toques and Bonnets.

The new toques and bonnets, says a New York fashion writer, are considerably larger in size than those recently worn; they are broader on the sides, or from side to side, above the temples, and are therefore becoming to women with slender faces, when the trimmings are not arranged too straight and high. The flower toques are charming, and many of the Paris models are composed of exquisitely shaded violets or roses, in pink or Jacqueminot tints, the toque itself being formed entirely of soft green thorny stems, intertwined in a lattice pattern, with a tiny in and out tracery of tender rose or maiden hair greenery at the edge, and an aigret to match on one side, mingled with a standing spray of violets or roses.

Women in Railroad Offices.

President Burt of the Union Pacific railroad has issued an order that all women stenographers and clerks in the headquarters of the road must be discharged. He gives as his reason that men cannot do as good work where women are and that women cannot do the work as well as men. His stand on this question has created considerable discussion in railroad circles, as women are employed in every headquarters in the country and generally give satisfaction. Mr. Burt started with the discharge of six women in the headquarters, and it is said that the other 200 are to follow at easy stages.

Following Miss Willard's Plan.

The general officers of the National Woman's Christian Temperance union have announced that it is their purpose to carry out the plan of their late leader, Miss Frances E. Willard, with reference to the retirement of the Chicago temple trust bonds. Miss Cornelia M. Dow, the daughter of the late General Neal Dow of Portland, Me., who was appointed by Miss Willard as custodian of the temple fund, will continue to receive all money contributed and will place the same upon interest.
